Product Specification Document

The goal, according to the customer, of this software development project is to deliver high-end quality product as early as possible.

The customer desires the application to add user option to:

- add a user specified file to the application.
- delete a user specified file from the application.
- search a user specified file from the application.

The user interface should present navigation option based on menu-driven console user interface with clear guidance for choosing the various operations and means for existing the context and the application, altogether.